Driver's License for All

What is it?

The new Driver's License for All law will allow Minnesotans to begin the process of obtaining a standard instruction permit, driver's license or a standard identification card starting October 1, 2023. The law eliminates the need to show proof of legal presence in the United States to begin the process.

What you need to know

- You will need to provide one primary and one secondary identification document or two primary identification documents from the standard document requirements list.
- You must pass the class D written knowledge test and road skill test to receive a standard driver's license.
- The information you provide on your application is private data, and DVS cannot share it with civil immigration enforcement or disclose the information to state or federal agencies that primarily enforce immigration law.
- The Driver's License for All law does not apply to REAL ID, enhanced driver's licenses or ID cards, or to commercial driver's licenses.

What to do now

What is a standard driver's license, permit or ID card?

- You can use a standard driver's license to drive lawfully.
- A standard permit, driver's license or ID card are generally accepted as proof of identification unless a REAL ID is required.
- Your standard driver's license or identification card will have "Not for Federal Identification" printed on it because it does not meet REAL ID requirements.
- You can use your standard card to board airplanes until May 7, 2025.
- Starting May 7, 2025, you will need a REAL ID compliant identification to board an airplane, visit military bases or enter certain federal facilities, like nuclear power plants. For more information about REAL ID, visit drive.mn.gov
